[Verse]

In our Jinghpo Wunpawng country, where the mountains kiss the sky,

Evil enemies once darkened, but we saw them off, goodbye.

They came to spread their shadows, yet we stood so brave and true, A proud country, peace and prosperity, the dreams we all pursue.

[Verse 2]

In the heart of our small towns, where the rivers gently flow,

Stories of courage whispered, in the fields where children grow.
From the valleys to the hilltops, we see the dawn's bright beam,
With unity and strength, we chase a nation's dream.

[Chorus]

Oh, Jinghpo Wunpawng, with our hearts and hands we stand,

A land so rich in beauty, this our cherished homeland.

With peace and prosperity, we sing our
solemn vow,

To keep this land so proud and free, no matter where or how.

[Verse 3]

Through the trials and the triumphs, we've walked that winding road,

Every story of our forebears is a tale of strength bestowed.

We guard our fields and forests, our rivers
running free,

Together in this journey, our future we decree.

[Chorus]

Oh, Jinghpo Wunpawng, with our hearts and hands we stand,

A land so rich in beauty, this our cherished
homeland.

With peace and prosperity, we sing our
solemn vow,

To keep this land so proud and free, no matter where or how.

[Bridge]

The echoes of our fathers, their legacy remains,

In every heart that's beating, in the rolling plains.

We cherish every memory, the lessons we have learned,

In unity and friendship, our flame forever burns.
